About The Schachter Catch the Energy Conference

The Schachter Energy Conference is a unique opportunity for active, individual investors interested in the energy sector to interact directly with CEOs and other company executives as they share their stories and answer audience questions in a moderated format. There are 35 companies participating including energy producers, energy service and innovative technology companies.

“Individual investors should be preparing their 'buy lists' now for the upswing in what we see as a multi-year Energy Super Cycle,” says Josef Schachter the host of the conference and a 40-year veteran of the investment business. “The current market downdraft should be over by year-end 2022, giving investors an excellent window for buying into the energy sector.”

The intent of the conference is to provide attendees with the information they need to make smart investment choices.
